

Mr. Michael Cheney is Co-Director for the Center of Ignatian Spirituality in Sacramento California where he teaches others to direct the Spiritual Exercises in the SEEL format. He is an experienced Ignatian retreat director and has been coming to JRH for the last four years. In the Diocese of Sacramento, he serves on the Ignatian Spirituality Formation team for permanent deacon candidates and their spouses. He teaches theology full time at Jesuit High School in Sacramento. Formerly, he taught theology and philosophy as a part-time adjunct instructor at Mt. St. Mary's College in Los Angeles; served as a faculty member in the St. Pierre Favre Program for the Training of Spiritual Directors in the Spiritual Exercises at the Jesuit Retreat Center in Los Altos California. During the summers, Michael takes a group of senior high students to Central America to work with and assist families who work and live in garbage dump communities. Michael has a BA and MA in Spanish from St. Louis University and a MA in Religious Studies from Mt. St. Mary's University in Los Angeles.
